

LA Fashion Snob

Lone Star Court – Austin, TX

Whether you call it “An Homage to Classic Americana” or “Rustic Quintessential Texas”... The Lone Star Court is definitely one of Austin’s (newest) and coziest places to stay.

The room did not disappoint in interior design. The bed frame and bedside lamps were very industrial chic, while the sitting nook maintained a relaxed retro feel (I literally could have slept on the couch... it was THAT comfy, in my opinion). Other additions to the room included a vintage full-size refrigerator (well stocked, but for a fee), a large wooden wardrobe, a sizable faux pull-down desk with director’s chair and LATHER body products in the bathroom.